Audience

Audience

Medical assistants are versatile members of the health care delivery team. They work primarily in outpatient (ambulatory) care settings, such as managed care facilities, medical practices, and clinics. Most members of the American Association of Medical Assistants have achieved the prestigious CMA (AAMA) credential.

For more information about the medical assisting audience, see the Occupational Analysis of the CMA (AAMA), which reports the results of a comprehensive AAMA survey of what CMAs (AAMA) identified as their responsibilities.

The AAMA offers a variety of ways to communicate with, and advertise to, this quickly expanding segment of the health care delivery team:

- List Rentals
- AAMA e-Update (monthly e-newsletter)
